INVITATION

It is truly a great pleasure to announce that the Asian Prosthetic and Orthotic Scientific Meeting 2016 (APOSIM 2016) will be held in Seoul, Korea from November 4th to 6th, 2016. The Korean Society for Prosthetics and Orthotics (ISPO-Korea) and the Korea Orthotics and Prosthetics Association are joining together to organize this most special event. Therefore, on behalf of the Organizing Committee, I am particularly honored to extend to you all this invitation to attend APOSIM 2016.

Thanks to the hard work and dedication of our comprehensive network of professionals, APOSIM has become the most authoritative scientific meeting in the field of Prosthetics and Orthotics in the Asia-Pacific region. Following in this path of excellence, the APOSIM 2016 Organizing Committee is planning an exciting and informative conference program including plenary and special lectures with oral and poster presentations on a variety of topics for all of us to get caught up on the up-to-date knowledge, recent research results and technological advances in the broad areas of our field.

For those of you who have yet to visit Seoul, this will be the perfect opportunity to explore this magnificent city. Steeped in a rich 600-year history, the capital is the dynamic heart of Korea and home to numerous outstanding cultural treasures. One of the most modern cities in the world and a leader in Asian pop-culture and trends, Seoul is sure to surpass your expectations.

I sincerely hope you will join us at APOSIM 2016. I, along with all the members of the Organizing Committee, look forward to meeting you in Seoul, Korea
